Acker of St. Paul's School of Gerden City won a national title by defeating Horaco Orser of George Washington High School in the final of the boys' championship division. Although Orser was his mutch in the matter of skill and was his motch in the matter of skill and in commend of strokes, Acker was the stronger physically. He set a fast page at the start that Oriser could not meet successfully, and the opening set ended 6—I in his favor. In the second division of play, Oreer made a plucky fight of it, overcoming a lead of three games and carrying the score into deute games. Acker, after his first set effort, had been forced to slacken his page for a time, but he came through impressively in the last few moments and won the set at 8—6.

In the junior doubles championship the title rests between Jerry Lang and Edgar F. Dawson and John F. Whitbeck and Morion Bernstein. While the former pair had little difficulty in their semi-final much yesterdery with Kenneth Appel and John Van Ryn, Whitbeck and Bernstein had very little to spare in defeating Valentine Grees and William Aydelotte in what was easily the best doubles match of the tournament The losses won the first set at 6—3 and were close to taking the third set, which required fourteen gemes. The contens was marked by an abundance of spectacular short range volleying.

Burns Calls on McGraw:

Has Same Old Smile

GEORGE BURNS, gentleman outfielder, dropped into the offices of the Giants yesterday for a little social call on John Mograw. If George is eating his heart out over his being traded to the Reds he does not show it. Burns wore that same old smile. He said that, of course, he was sorry to leave New York. But he added that it was all in the game—that he would report to York. But he added that it was all in the game—that he would report to Put Moran and "try to beat the Giants a few times in 1922."

Burns is here with Mrs. Burns for a holiday visit to her folks. With Burns going to the Reds and Slim Sallee released, a little family group of the Giants is broken up. Burns and Slim were roomies, and Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Sallee, alike as twins, are the closest of friends.

The Federation Idea Opposed.

There is strong resentment in certain quarters particularly against Col. Pierce's attempt to lead the association into the national athletic federation idea. Some time ago the A. A. U. issued a call for a meeting to form the American Olympic Association and invited both the Army and the Navy. Secretary of War Weeks responded with a suggestion that the meeting be called Tiny Maxwell to officiate in its games.

During his Canton speech Debs said:

If the war was over to-morrow all the prison doors would be opened.
They (the prosecutions) were just to silence these voices during the war, and the cases will be pending in the courts for months, perhaps years.
"Is it any wonder that men dare to violate the law if they are to be treated as merely interned aliens to be released immediately upon the cessation of hostilities? If people, in the country's greatest extremity, are permitted, not only to refuse to assist the Government, suade one man from volunteering or induces one soldfer to desert, weakens the Union cause as much as one who kills a Union soldier in battle. Yet this discussion or inducement may be so conducted as to be no definite crime of which any civil court would

Continuing further, he said:

"Long experience has shown me that armies cannot be maintained unless desertion shall be punished by the severe penalty of death. The case requires and the Constitution canctions the punishment. SYRACUSE, Dec. 30.—Writing an average of ninety-two words a minute for fifteen minutes, with only thirty-one er-York set a new world's record for court reporters' style typewriting at the annual convention of the porters Association.

There is, however, in this particular case of Dobs, a danger not often en-disregard their duty as citizens and defy and hamper the Government in its extremity, in the hope, and with the belief, that all will be forgiven as soon as peace is declared. There is, therefore, no valid ground for elemency in the foregoing argument.

Vallandigham's Case Recalled.

"On this point it is instructive to refer to a letter written by President Lincoln June 12, 1863, to Erastus Corning and others who were moved by sympathy in hehalf of Vallandigham, who made the same kind of a speech at Mount Vernon, Ohio, at the critical period of the civil cuse for those with criminal intent. So

'No right thinking man would set up a government or a system of govern-ment advocated by Debs as against the government founded by the wisdom of our forefathers and supported by every right thinking American citizen who has an understanding of the benefits and ne-cessity of government and the cessity of government and the so-and opportunity it affords.

Private Life Irreproachable.

'Aside from the offense of which Debs was convicted, his private life, so I am informed, has been irreproachable. His wife is quite as old as he is and she is failing in health.
